

Child Safety at Home --An Overview

The COVID-19 pandemic turned the world towards digitized learning, which, it seems, is here to stay."

the education sector was more focused on face-to-face classes than on digital learning (eLearning). However, this highly contagious virus forced governments to close educational institutions, which affected more than one billion students in more than 130 countries.

Then, the world turned to digitalized learning, which, it seems, is here to stay. During this time when kids are at Home their Safety is a Prime concern , so we will probe a little more into it .

THE GOLDEN WORDS ARE --- Watch your child at all times, as children do not understand danger!

The aim of the Child Safety Awareness is to reduce and prevent 'unintentional injury' to children within the home. It does this by empowering and supporting parents and carers to make the necessary changes to promote child safety.

Communication, education, participation and empowerment are key elements to the delivery of the Awareness .

One of the key messages is - watch your child at all times, as children do not understand danger. This references the fact that close supervision is key to preventing unintentional injuries to children. However supervision is not an isolated activity - it is helped by:

- Knowing what your child is capable of*
- Providing a safe space for your children*
- Using appropriate toys and play equipment*
- Setting safety rules*

THE KEY TO SAFETY IS IN YOUR HANDS....
