Events & Reflection

FROM THE PRINCIPAL DESK

As the Education Authorities have already permitted to reopen Schools in a HYBRID staggered pattern COVID -19 we wish to successfully reopen during the 2020-2021 school year. We need to have a success story, and use strategies to build trust with their communities and keep Covid-19 case numbers down.

Here are major lessons identified to keep their communities safe.

1) Require masks, and model good masking for kids. Mask requirements in schools are highly essential, hence you as parents enthusiastically are requested to essentially support to send their children to school only with face covering and keep advising their wards to maintain doing so throughout. But widespread masking remains one of the best protections against Covid-19 spread, as our children are yet to be vaccinated.

2) Regular testing can prevent cases from turning into outbreaks.

Kindly do regular testing allowed this school to identify cases among all students, quarantine classes, and stop those isolated cases from turning into outbreaks. Voluntary testing would be more likely to include only the families who are also more likely to follow other safety protocols.

3) Improve ventilation and avoid AC if possible.

School will opt for more natural ventilation: opening doors and windows, and holding class outside whenever possible. Measures for improvements to school ventilation systems not having their Condition on may help for sure.

4) Our School may be focusing too much on cleaning.

Our institution is devoting time and resources to deep-cleaning - even though numerous scientific studies had demonstrated that the virus primarily spreads through the air, not through surface contact. More than a year later, hygiene theater is still to be kept alive.

5) Investing in school staff and inviting their contributions to safety strategies.

School staff are familiarizing themselves with the science of Covid-19, and exercising immense determination and creativity to provide their students with a decent school experience. Teaching is typically a challenging job, but in the last 18 months, it has become heroic - even though many people outside school environments take this work for granted.

HAPPY SCHOOLING OF YOUR WARD
